Why did you choose to study in the School of the Environment?

In first year, I honestly did not know what I was going to study. By chance, my mom suggested "why don't you try studying environmental science? If you don't like it, you can always switch to another program," and here I am, four years later.

What is your favourite memory from your time with the School?

In a course in third year, we got the chance to go on a field trip to the Humber river. We caught and then released fish fry, looked at invertebrates, and even saw crayfish and crabs. I think it was an amazing way to put theory into practice and an unforgettable experience.
What have you learned about yourself through the program?

I learned to pay attention to my actions that could impact the environment. It's not about wealth, social status, or how much influence an individual has to make a change in the world. It's about the little things - every little thing counts.

Do you have any advice for incoming students?

Explore, learn, enjoy.

How have you been affected by the global COVID-19 pandemic? What are your thoughts about the future?

Currently, I am staying home to flatten the curve. My thoughts and prayers go out to all the families impacted by COVID-19. I hope that we can see a Coronavirus-free Canada very soon.
